Ulster Cabinet Accepts Invitation to Meet in London.

Lloyd George Returns From His Vacation Today.

ELEVEN KILLED IN ULSTER

Irish Republicans Hold Convention Despite Anti-Orders.

Irish Treaty Is Repudiated by Mufineers in "Free State."

(By the Associated Press.)
Belfast, March 27.—A notice posted near the city hall in Dundalk, County Louth, a strong Sinn Féin center near the border of the free state territory, calls attention to the absence of any resolution by the non-Catholic body of County Louth against the treaty, and calls upon the Protestants to act immediately, "failing which we are determined to use the same means as they in Belfast used to our fellow Catholics."

"On and after March 29," adds the notice, "for every Catholic man, woman, boy, girl or child murdered, or maltreated, or also shall the same quantity of helpers of the systematic murders of our fellow Catholics meet the same fate."

The notice concluded: "Signed by order of the silent but sure mufineers."

London, March 27.—The Irish free state bill passed its third and final reading in the house of lords today.

(By the Associated Press.)
Belfast, March 27.—The Ulster cabinet today accepted the invitation extended by the British government to a conference in London of Irish leaders, called in view of the disturbed conditions in Ireland.

London, March 27.—Premier Lloyd George came back to London today to attempt to pacify Ireland and prevent civil war between Ulster province and the Irish free state.

It was expected the premier would confer with King George on both the Irish situation and plans for the Genoa conference before making any decisions.

During his return from Creiche, Wales, to London today, Premier Lloyd George lost a valuable hour by the draft of a resolution to the house of commons next month, expressing confidence in his Genoa program.

Belfast, March 27.—Eleven persons have been killed and a hundred wounded in Ulster during the past thirty hours. Terror reigned throughout the night with rifle and pistol volleys and bomb blasts in the streets. Some of the street battles between Sinn Féiners and Orangemen rose to savage fury. Large forces fought fiercely in the central business district, shooting and throwing bombs indiscriminately. A woman, working in a confectionery shop, was killed by a sniper Sunday night.

Two persons died of wounds received in earlier fighting. Two more were killed today. Fire was continuous along the frontier.

Fifteen arrests had been made here up to noon.

Dublin, March 27.—The convention of Irish republican army members which had been forbidden by the British cabinet ended its lengthy session in the last night without exciting any outward demonstration or ruffling the usual Sunday life of the city.

The action of the convention in unanimously adopting a resolution reaffirming the delegates' allegiance to the Irish republic, and their condemnation among the supporters of the free state.

DOES 2 BIRDS ON ONE HOLE

Can't Be Done? Oh Yes—But One "Birdie" Is a Sparrow.

Fresno, Cal., March 27.—Two birdies on one hole was the phenomenal record made on the Sunnyside Country club golf links here yesterday by Gerald Thomas.

Teeling off from number five, Thomas made a beautiful drive which sailed straight for the hole. One hundred and fifty yards down the fairway a flock of sparrows suddenly swooped into the course of the ball. Thomas' first "birdie" was registered when the ball decapitated one of the sparrows. After pausing to mourn over the death of the sparrow, Thomas played a full mangle approach to the green.

His ball rolled into the cup giving him birdie number two. The hole is a par three.

The Pacific mills were the most seriously affected of the seven plants which opened under reduced pay schedules. Almost the pin. One hundred and fifty workers were thronged with idle mill workers, who walked amiably about. Picketing was unorganized.

FORDS IN FIERCE BATTLE

Two "Flivvers" Disputed All Across Jackson Street About the Right of Way—They Lost Their Tempers and Resorted to Force.

Fords are almost human. They have moods and idiosyncrasies, and methods all their own. Thus far there can be no dispute. Besides, they have a lot of human characteristics. They are stubborn, glib, and some of them extremely proud and touchy.

At any rate two of them disputed all across Jackson street this morning about the right of way, and when human beings, they lost their tempers and resorted to force, before the argument was settled.

One of them was carrying W. H. Stanley, of the Peoples Investment company, south on Jackson street at a gallop. The other was an old Ford and its heart in its work. Another one had just breakfasted on five gallons of gas at the automobile lunch counter, and was on its way to the eighth avenue, on Jackson street. It was carrying B. E. Parks, plumber.

The Ford which attacked its cast iron rival was a 1920 vintage, but thirteen years of toll and tribulation left it with a high courage and unquenchable ardor.

The two Fords met.

Then commenced such a struggle as Homer would have delighted to smite his blooming boys and recount the silly squabbles of the Greek and Roman gods would have seemed puerile, rude, and inhuman.

Growing, snarling, snorting like the dragons of chivalry; shedding gasoline like blood; fenders locked in indestructible death grapple; radiator pressed fiercely against radiator; reared upright upon hind wheels, the two pseudo-sentient jitneys raged across Jackson street.

Neither would give an inch to the other. Henry expects every jitney to be the best of the two combatants seemed to shout in silence. They seen their duty and they done it—glibly.

Helpless, the drivers clung to their wheels as all their guiding power. They had no more influence over the embattled flivvers than Alex. Howard exerted on the fifth floor of the state house.

The bout was a draw.

Gaspings for empty of water, impotent to do more than glare fiercely and crookedly from battered headlights, the two Fords fell apart.

With simultaneous snorts and contempt, they died where they stood, after knocking a third vehicle of the same denomination on its side in the parking of the street. This in fealty to the tradition about the innocent bystander.

Both cars were somewhat damaged, but not irreparably so. The accident occurred shortly before 9 o'clock this morning.

TO STOP STRIKE?

Anthracite Miners and Operators to Confer Again.

Miners Determined to Keep Up High Wage Demand.

FARRINGTON TO CONFER ALSO

Illinois Head States No Possibility Separate Peace.

Little Hope Held Out for Continued Union Work.

Springfield, Ill., March 27.—Acting upon his promise to coal operators, President Frank Farrington of the Illinois union miners this morning wired presidents of three coal operators' associations of Illinois that he would meet them Wednesday in Chicago. Asked if the conference might result in a separate wage scale for Illinois miners, Mr. Farrington said "not at this time."

(By the Associated Press.)
New York, March 27.—Members of the anthracite wage scale subcommittee returned from Cleveland today to renew negotiations with the operators in an effort to avert the strike called for next Saturday night. Both operators and miners expressed a desire to end the general discussions and to confine future sessions to consideration of the nineteen demands of the workers.

Demanding a 20 per cent increase in wages, the miners say they propose to demonstrate that wages in the mines failed to keep pace with wages in other industries during the war.

That the total increase has been only 65 per cent, since 1918; that the mine operator is making an excessive profit, and that the mines have little to show a reasonable profit to the operator after granting both an increase in wages and a reduction in price.

Indianapolis, March 27.—With plans complete for the nation-wide coal strike, union leaders here today awaited developments in their program for a complete tie-up of the country's coal industry thru their call to 200,000 non-union miners to join the half million union workers in the suspension of work next Friday midnight.

No action, however, was contemplated to be taken from the union's international headquarters here today, but district officials bordering the non-union fields were expected to make formal calls for action on the part of the non-union workers.

While developments in the New York conference this week were expected to clarify the stand of the operators, the miners here today hope that the walk-out in the anthracite districts would be averted.

For the soft coal fields, no settlement was in sight from any field, although both northern West Virginia and Illinois union officials were to hold wage negotiations with operators.

Both mine operators and officers of the mine workers' union are expected to appear in Topeka Thursday for the general mine wage inquiry. Recent decisions in industrial court cases declaring that the labor court had authority to summon witnesses and compel their attendance will likely cause a general response to subpoenas issued by the court last week.

HIS WATCH 340 YEARS OLD.

John Perkins of London Constructed Time Piece Owned by Kansas.

Belleville, Kan., March 27.—J. E. Griffin has a watch made in 1573, 349 years ago, that is still in good running order. The watch is set with a watch made in England by "John Perkins, London."

Griffin, in the jewelry and watchmaking business for thirty-five years and the watch came into his possession some years ago and he retained it as a relic.

It is a key wind watch. The watch is an odd looking one, much thicker and heavier than those with the modern style. It is set with diamonds; the case is of sterling silver.

1. Overthrow of the Peking government.

$20,000 IN JEWELS RECOVERED.

Birmingham Arrests Reimburses N. Y. Salesman Help Up in New Orleans.

Birmingham, March 27.—Recovery of all of the $20,000 worth of jewelry taken from a New York jewelry salesman when they were held up in a New Orleans hotel March 15 has been effected with the arrest of Roy Pickerson, alias Ray D. Gaines, and R. J. Thomas, indolent detectives who made the arrests said today.

Pickerson also was said to be wanted in his campaign to lift the dry lid a wee bit and to declare a holiday in the writing of blue laws. The organization—with a program that would bring joy to the heart of Miss Helen Pettigrew, probable governorship candidate; or J. B. Billard, former Topeka mayor—wants a charter to do "business" in this state. The league wants the country to beat back in its drive for rigid purity and reform legislation and is in the field with a light wine and beer program.

Five women—three of them Mrs. are among incorporators of the Citizens' Liberty League. The league is a mutual association of liberty-loving men and women for the purpose of combating the wave of Puritanism now crystallized in the Eighteenth amendment; to carry on a campaign with a view of correcting the situation of disrespect for law engendered by the prohibition amendment; to carry on a propaganda campaign to protect the best interests of the American people by petitioning congress for an amendment to the Volstead act to permit the manufacture and sale of beer and light wines.
